

From the Principal's Desk

Education is one thing that no one can take away from you.

– Elin Nordegren

Education is an important tool which is very useful in everybody's life. Education is what differentiates us from other living beings on earth. It makes man the smartest creature on earth. It empowers humans and gets them ready to face the challenges of life efficiently. Education remains a luxury and not a necessity in our country. Educational awareness needs to be spread throughout the country to make education accessible. But this remains incomplete without first analysing the importance of education. Only when people realize what significance it holds, can they consider it a necessity for a good life and to be an independent individual.

Education also benefits an individual in various ways. It helps a person to be a better decision maker by using their knowledge. This increases the success rate of a person in life.

Subsequently, Education is also responsible for providing an enhanced lifestyle. It gives you career opportunities that can increase your quality of life. Similarly, education it also helps in making a person independent. When one is educated enough, they don't have to depend on anyone else for their livelihood. They will be self-sufficient to earn for themselves and lead a good life.

Above all, Education also boosts self-confidence of a person and makes them certain of things in life. With education, you can enhance your productivity and complete a task better in comparison to an uneducated person. However, one must always ensure that education alone does not ensure success. It is a doorway to success that requires hard work, dedication and more after which can you can open it successfully. All of these things together will make you successful in life.

In conclusion, education makes you a better person and teaches you various skills. It enhances your intellect and the ability to make rational decisions. It enhances the individual growth of a person.

Education also improves the economic growth of a country. Above all, it aids in building a better society for the citizens of a country. It helps to destroy the darkness of ignorance and bring light to the world. Let's spread the LIGHT of education to all people.

Importance of Politeness

Treat everyone with politeness and kindness, not because they are nice, but because you are.

– Roy T Bennett

Politeness is related to one's character and his or her behavior. It is a custom to behave politely in different cultures. Politeness is an act of respect that one shows to others. It is a way of communicating with people in a respectful and considerate way. There are many ways to be polite, and it can vary depending on the culture or situation. Politeness is defined as "behavior that shows respect for other people and consideration for their feelings." It is a way of communicating with others that is respectful and considerate. There are many ways to be polite, and it can vary depending on the culture or situation.

Politeness is important because it helps to maintain good relationships with others. It shows that we care about other people's feelings and that we are considerate of them. Politeness can also make others feel comfortable around us and create a positive impression.

Being polite can help to maintain good relationships with others, and it can create a positive impression. In personal life, politeness can help to resolve conflicts peacefully. In professional life, politeness is often essential for success. It can help to build trust and relationships with co-workers, clients, and customers. Politeness can also make a positive impression on potential employers, friends, family members, and business partners.

Hence as individuals, we need to be polite and respect each other day in and day out as it is one of the basic characteristics of a person.
